

History websites

<http://www.bbc.co.uk/history/0/>

A good general website for information on periods of history and important historical figures.

http://www.bbc.co.uk/schools/websites/4\_11/site/history.shtml

Another BBC history website, even more child friendly.

<http://horrible-histories.co.uk/>

Horrible Histories site – lots of games and information relating to curriculum history

<http://www.historylearningsite.co.uk/>

A bank of resources and timelines for many curriculum areas of history

<http://www.teachingandlearningresources.co.uk/funhistory.shtml#rome>

A fabulous site, listing lots of sites for various aspects of KS2 Primary history

Geography sites

<http://www.geography.org.uk/resources>

A good database of resources and links to other geographical sites

<http://www.nationalgeographic.com/>

A great site with a wealth of video and printable information. Good as a research site for lots of geography subjects.

<http://www.georesources.co.uk/indexph.htm>

A bank of photographs of areas of the world (both physical and human features)

<http://www.georesources.co.uk/outlinemaps.htm>

A bank of outline maps

<http://www.google.co.uk/maps>

Maps resource (worldwide)