

Human abacus. Year five have been out in the autumn (and windy) weather to investigate their place value skills. They had to get themselves in place and multiply and divide themselves by 10, 100 and 1000.